

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTION

Annual Report —
July 1, 2004 - June 30, 2005

Larry Norris, ADC Director

July 1, 2005

The Honorable Mike Huckabee
Governor of Arkansas
State Capitol, Room 250
Little Rock, AR 72201

Dear Governor Huckabee:

The Arkansas Department of Correction saw its inmate population continue to swell in fiscal year 2005. The number of female inmates backed up in county jails reached record highs, and for the first time ever, the number of females on the waiting list topped the number of males.

Thankfully, with tremendous help from you, the General Assembly and the Board of Corrections, the department is able to expand its facilities to meet the needs of a growing population. The ADC is building 200 beds for women at Wrightsville and at Newport, and we are moving quickly toward breaking ground on an 850-bed special needs facility at Malvern.

As the agency grows in size, so does our commitment to honesty and integrity in public service. The knowledge, leadership and professionalism of our employees have made the ADC one of the finest correctional agencies in the country. Because of their hard work and dedication, all department-owned facilities have maintained full accreditation by the American Correctional Association.

On behalf of every ADC employee, I proudly submit our 2005 Annual Report to you, the General Assembly and the citizens of the great state of Arkansas.

Sincerely,

Larry Norris
ADC Director

Mission

The mission of the Arkansas Department of Correction is to:

*Provide public safety by carrying out the mandates of the courts;
Provide a safe, humane environment for staff and inmates;
Provide programs to strengthen the work ethic; and Provide opportunities for spiritual, mental and physical growth*

Vision

The vision of the Arkansas Department of Correction is to be an elite correctional organization dedicated to public service through ethical, innovative, and professional leadership at all levels delivering superior services to the citizens of Arkansas.

EEO Statement

In keeping with its mission, the Department of Correction desires to employ individuals who are dependable and sincerely interested in serving the mission of the department.

The ADC seeks employees who can handle these important matters in a professional manner. The ADC is an equal opportunity employer, providing equal employment opportunities without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability or veteran status. This policy and practice relates to all phases of employment including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, placement, promotion, transfer, layoff, recall, termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation, training, use of all facilities and participation in all department sponsored employee activities and programs.

All members of the ADC management staff are familiar with this statement of policy, the philosophy behind it and their responsibility to apply these principles in good faith for meaningful progress in the utilization of minorities and women.

Board of Corrections

In 1993, the Arkansas General Assembly amended Arkansas Code Annotated §12-27-101 and placed the Department of Correction under the supervision and control of the Board of Corrections (BOC), which assumed the powers, functions, and duties formerly held by the original Board of Correction (1968) and its predecessor, the State Penitentiary Board (1943).

The Board of Corrections has seven voting members:

- Five citizen members
- Chairman of the Post Prison Transfer Board
(Until 1993, the Board of Parole)
- One criminal justice faculty member, employed at a four-year
Arkansas University

The BOC was impaneled July 1, 1993. Each member is appointed by the Governor and serves a term of seven years.

Yearly Events

Board gives preliminary approval to inmate co-payment

On July 26, 2004, the Board of Corrections gave preliminary approval to a medical co-payment for inmates. Board members said they hoped the new fee would reduce the number of frivolous visits and give medical staff more time to spend with those who are truly ill. Inmates will not be charged for emergency or continuing care. The policy is intended to encourage inmates to "learn increased responsibility for their own choices and actions." The $3 co-pay went into effect in January 2005, and within two months sick calls had decreased by 25 percent.

Female inmate population reaches record number

In August 2004, the number of female inmates backed up in county jails reached 200, setting a new record. Within a few weeks, the female backup became greater than the number of male inmates awaiting bed space in the Arkansas Department of Correction, which marked a new trend in Arkansas. The percentage growth of the female population had been outpaced by the male population growth in recent years, but the big shift in the makeup of the backlog did not occur until FY2005. The continued use of illegal drugs, especially crystal methamphetamine, is being blamed for much of the dramatic rise in the number of female inmates.

ADC tackles Justice Department agreement for Newport Complex

The state signed a nine-page memorandum of understanding with the U.S. Justice Department in August 2004, after Federal officials issued a letter of findings on conditions at the Newport Complex. The Justice Department called some conditions at the Grimes and McPherson Units "unconstitutional." Their main areas of concern were medical care and mental health treatment. When the report was released, the ADC admitted shortcomings at the facilities, but maintained that constitutional requirements were being met. The department also said it had been working hard to improve conditions since taking over management of the facilities from a private company in July 2001. For the most part, the agreement with the Justice Department said the ADC would continue to make improvements at the Newport facilities.

Prison Rape Elimination Act training developed

As part of its strict adherence to the guidelines of the Federal Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003, the ADC named 12 committees to work on preparations, recommendations, policies, and practices. Among the recommendations were changes in lesson plans for Basic Correctional Officer Training. As a result, classes on sexual abuse awareness, intervention, prevention and detection have been included.

Inmate charged and convicted of 'dashing'

In November 2004, a clear message was sent to inmates who use or might think of using bodily fluids to harass correctional officers. If they do it, they could end up getting more time behind bars. That was the message sent with the first ever conviction of a state prison inmate charged with two felony counts for throwing urine and feces at a correctional officer twice in October 2003. The inmate, who was serving a 15-year sentence for rape, was sentenced to spend two more years in prison for two counts of aggravated assault on a correctional facility employee.

Work Release inmate praised for actions after accident

In November 2004, a state prison work release inmate was praised for his actions taken after an early morning accident on Interstate 530 near Pine Bluff. Michael Moss, 45, serving a 10-year sentence for various drug-related convictions, and three other inmates were passengers in a van that drove off an embankment. Moss used the driver's cellular phone to call for help. When rescue workers couldn't find the wreckage, Moss freed himself from inside the van, climbed the embankment and waved down police and paramedics. Moss, sentenced out of Independence County, and the other three state inmates, all housed at the Pine Bluff Unit, were riding in the van owned by Tyson Foods and driven by a Tyson employee. The men had been out working and were returning to the Tyson office in Pine Bluff when the accident occurred.

Ouachita River Unit continues to open new beds

With overcrowding as a continual issue, correctional officials opened an additional 316 beds at the Ouachita River Correctional Unit in December 2004. That unit, which opened its first 316 beds in August 2003, is set to have 948 beds when completed. The department is also building an additional 200-bed unit in Wrightsville to help with its rapidly expanding female population.

Newport Complex becomes Lifetime Sponsor of Correctional Peace Officers Foundation (CPOF)

The Newport Complex became the first member of the Arkansas Department of Correction to become a Lifetime Sponsor of the Correctional Peace Officers Foundation. Warden John Maples presented a $5,000 check to the Arkansas representative of the CPOF.

Board votes to establish faith-based pre-release program

During its February 28th meeting, the Board of Corrections voted to pursue a faith-based pre-release program. The Inner Change Freedom Initiative program, which would give inmates another option as they re-enter society, is set to be coordinated by Ashburn, Virginia-based Prison Fellowship Ministries. The voluntary program would be available for 200 males and 50 female inmates.

Units/Complex re-accredited for three more years

The East Arkansas Regional Unit, Mississippi County Work Release Center, Delta Regional Unit, North Central Unit, Pine Bluff Complex, Tucker Unit, Benton Unit, and the Wrightsville Unit were re-accredited by the American Correctional Association. All of the facilities met 100 percent of the mandatory standards set forth by the American Correctional Association. The MCWRC, Tucker Unit, and Benton Unit also scored 100 percent on the non-mandatory standards, while the other units earned marks above 99 percent.

Technical violators center opens thanks to inmate labor

The Omega Technical Violators Center opened in Malvern on March 7 with 150 beds. Another 150 beds opened a few weeks later. ADC supervisors and inmates built the facility, which is under the direction of the Arkansas Department of Community Correction. The 76,000-square-foot center serves as an alternative to more prison time for parolees who violate their release from prison on technicalities such as, failure to report and leaving the county without permission.

Board approves Internet banking system

In March 2005, the Board of Corrections approved an Internet banking system that provides another way for friends and families of Arkansas inmates to put funds on their ADC account. The service, which earned a national award, allows people to charge a credit card in an Internet transaction that deposits funds directly into the inmate's account. The transaction costs 5 percent of the amount to be deposited. Agency officials said the online payment options would reduce the administrative burden for agency staff and also save time and money for family and friends of inmates. Previously they could only send money by wire transfer or by mailing a cashier's check or money order where overnight delivery could cost as much as $14.

Inmate holiday packages begin

Two companies provided friends and families an opportunity to provide a package of snacks and other items to inmates during the holiday season. Each company offered packages to about half of the inmate population. The first ever holiday package offerings brought limited complications, and sales were generally good.

Staph infections invade ADC units

During the Spring of 2005, outbreaks of staph at the McPherson Unit prompted the department to temporarily to waive new medical co-pay for inmates with skin problems.

This would encourage them to seek treatment for possible staph infections. During March, 37 of the 700 inmates at the McPherson Unit were treated for staph infections. Six of the women had staph, which was resistant to antibiotics. Other outbreaks of the infection occurred at the East Arkansas Regional Unit and the North Central Unit.

ADC prepares for special needs facility at Ouachita River Unit

More than $39 million was approved during the 2005 legislation session to build a special needs unit at the Ouachita River Correctional Unit in Malvern. Funding will be provided by the sale of bonds issued through the Arkansas Development Finance Authority. The 850-bed special needs addition will include a centralized intake and diagnostic area for male inmates, a hospital, and housing for special populations which will include: geriatric, chronically ill, and mentally ill inmates. The facility is to be built with inmate labor. Construction is expected to take approximately five years.

Legislation approved for additional beds, cost of living adjustment and more

Legislators also made smuggling of a cell phone into a prison a Class B felony and expanded the customer base for Arkansas Correctional Industries. Employees of State agencies and institutions may purchase goods produced by Arkansas Correctional Industries (ACI). New legislation also provided extra good time for inmates who earn a GED, complete drug treatment or receive a Vo-Tech training certificate. Under a major change approved by lawmakers, inmates convicted of meth crimes after August 12 and sentenced under the 70 percent law will be allowed to earn good time, but not as much as other drug offenders. Lawmakers also approved a cost of living adjustment for employees for each year of the biennium and changed the name of the Post Prison Transfer Board to the Board of Parole.

First PIE Program to open at McPherson Unit

Construction of a factory got underway at the McPherson Unit to provide wages for inmates who are employed by a private manufacturing company. Under the new private sector, Prison Industry Enhancement (PIE) Certification Program, the company has contracted with the ADC and will employ inmates at the facility. The operation will make wiring harnesses for medical equipment and equipment that will be used for airport security. The program is expected to eventually employ 80 to 90 female inmates. They will be paid at least minimum wage and must send money to those they are supporting, the Crime Victims' Compensation Fund, save money, and pay any court-ordered child support.

Administrative Services

FY 05 Budget

Appropriation for all ADC State funded programs totaled $224,079,353 in FY05. General Revenue funding included in the Revenue Stabilization Law was $206,530,355. This amounted to an increase of $4,700,000 million over FY04. The FY05 budget included continuing level for existing institutions and administrative programs, an average of 2.7% cost of living raise on July 1, 2004, incremental increases for contract costs of medical, full year staffing and operational expenses of the Newport 400 bed expansion, and half year staffing and operational expenses for Phase II 316-beds at the Ouachita River Correctional Facility. The FY05 budget included $2.8 million of projected miscellaneous revenues and Merit Adjustment funds of $5,708,125 for costs of Career Service Recognition Payments and Pay Plan costs inclusive of FY04 momentum. ADC received a separate line item appropriation and funding of $2,806,592 for reimbursement to counties for housing state inmates, and this amount was budgeted in addition to balances carried forward from FY04. Cash (Work Release and Inmate Welfare), Special Revenue (Farm and Industry Programs), and Federal (Therapeutic Community, Work Force Education, and SATP) appropriation budgets totaled $34.6 million and included continuing level for existing programs.

IT Certification Class

During November 2004, the Information Services Section held its first week long IT Certification Class for ADC personnel. This training gives participants a basic overview and understanding of computer systems and network operations. Topics covered include the installation of operating systems and software applications such as, anti virus, Microsoft Office, troubleshooting, and a review of standards and policies. This class was offered as an approved Career Ladder Incentive Program (CLIP) project. Certifying employees will enable units to handle routine and less complicated software updates. Five (5) more classes were held during FY 2005.

Research and Planning

In July, ADC concluded the CY 2000 addendum to the 1997-1999 Recidivism Study. The results show a very slight decrease in overall recidivism of 52.1% in 1999 to 51.8% in 2000. Technical Parole violators within a three-year post release continued to account for 35.4% of all inmates returned to prison.

2005 Cost Per Day

With Act 2035 of 2005, the ADC Appropriation Act for the FY06-07 Biennium required ADC to submit to the Arkansas Legislative Council, within 90 days of the close of the State fiscal year, a report including direct and indirect costs incurred for housing and caring for incarcerated inmates. The Special Language required that costs be calculated and reported in total for the department and in total by each facility. The Section 30 Methodology required ADC to include costs of the ADC School District, the Department of Workforce Education, and Attorney General's Office that are relative to ADC inmates. It also required the inclusion of any interest expense incurred for financing construction projects. The total ADC direct and indirect costs for FY05 were $230,344,342 an increase of $6.5 million over FY04 costs of $223,843,126. The FY05 average cost per day per inmate utilizing this methodology totaled $50.55. The average cost per day per bed was $48.88. In comparison, the 2004 costs were $50.54 and $48.88 respectively. In addition to the Section 30 methodology required by law, ADC has calculated a cost per day since the early 1980's. This calculation is included in the Annual Corrections Yearbook published by the Criminal Justice Institute. The average cost per day using the CJI methodology is $48.24, an increase of $.92 from the FY04 rate of $47.32, or 1.95%.

Utility Invoices Consolidation

ADC subscribed to a web-based billing, information and cost management service offered by Avista Advantage. The system enables review and analysis of information commonly found on utility invoices and organizes it into a comprehensive web-accessible database. The facility IQ system provides an online financial reporting interface that allows viewing utility billing information and creation of reports. The service also includes expert analysis and review of invoices for errors in billing, rates, etc.

Administrative Services

Prison Rape Elimination Act Training Implementation

The ADC Federal Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Committee developed changes in lesson plans on sexual abuse, awareness, intervention, prevention, and detection for the ADC Basic Correctional Officer Training (BCOT). Elimination of sexual assaults is the focus of PREA. Necessary revisions to existing lesson plans were implemented by January 1, 2005.

Physical Assessments

On July 1, 2004, physical assessment testing for incumbent employees began in order to provide safety and protection for themselves and others. This program assists in making employees aware of their health and wellness. Incumbents (859) took the physical assessment test during FY05. Of that number, 783 (91.15%) were able to meet the requirements on the first attempt. Thirty eight (38) employees did not meet the requirement the first time, but were able to meet the requirements on the second attempt within 30 days. Seventeen were unable to take the physical assessment as a result of diagnosis of high blood pressure. However, following instructions and referring to their physician; they were able to get their high blood pressure under control and pass the assessment within 30 days.

2nd Annual Health Fair

On May 18, 2005, ADC Human Resources hosted the Second Annual Health Fair at the Administration Annex East Building. The date selected was known nationwide as National Employee Health and Fitness day. This is the largest worksite and community health and fitness program in the United States, sponsored exclusively by the National Association of Health and Fitness. This day is officially recognized on the third Wednesday in May. Attendees participated in stroke, anemia, diabetes, and cholesterol assessments as well as vision screenings. These assessments were performed by trained professionals from various vendors including Healthworks, Trestletree, Jefferson Comprehensive Care, Corphealth, American Red Cross, Blue Cross Blue Shield, Curves for Women, and McFarland's Eye Centers.

Cummins/Varner Employee Transportation Bus

In an effort to help recruit and retain employees for the Cummins and Varner units, the ADC purchased a 33-passenger bus to provide economical and convenient commuting for employees. Riders pay $20 per pay-period to reserve a seat on the bus. These fees are conveniently payroll deducted.

Career Ladder Incentive Program (CLIP)

There were 1,175 employees that met requirements for CLIP II and received a bonus payment. The cost for ADC totaled $882,358. The Chief Fiscal Officer of the State established bonus rates for those that successfully completed all requirements of their CLIP criteria. Employees receiving an "above average" performance evaluation, received a two percent (2%) bonus. Employees receiving an "exceeds standards" performance evaluation received a four percent (4%) bonus.

HB 1796 - County Jail Invoice Report

Legislation sponsored by Representative Robbie Wills required ADC to post information summarizing monthly invoices from counties for housing State inmates on the ADC web site. A link from eOMIS to the websites, which is updated monthly enables county officials to access information pertaining to payments made to the respective counties for inmates held for transfer to ADC.

Health Care Services

ADC inmate medical and dental services are provided through a professional service contract with Correctional Medical Services (CMS), St. Louis, MO.

The cost, of the FY 2005 contract, was an average of $220.18 per inmate per month occupying ADC/DCC facilities and $83.14 per inmate housed in county jails under conditions of Act 309. The contract provided comprehensive health care through the efforts of 324 full-time equivalent staff, including 25 full-time equivalent physicians, and dentists.

The program operates one licensed general medical hospital, eight (8) licensed infirmaries, and nine medical dispensaries. CMS was responsible for all secondary care including: emergency room visits, dialysis, outpatient surgery, hospitalizations, and consults needed by inmates to a maximum of $5.8 million dollars. Secondary care cost, above this level, is paid by the department, which incurred at total of 3.7 million dollars.

Communicable Diseases

At the close of FY2005, the HIV population consisted of 97 inmates, 86 males and 11 females. On an ongoing bases, HIV screenings are conducted at intake for new commitments and as part of update physical exams for all inmates. Testing is mandatory for high-risk individuals such as, drug abusers, prostitutes, and inmates testing positive for tuberculosis exposure.

Inmates with high-risk lifestyles are provided counseling. Educational programs are available to inmates and to staff, and a standard curriculum is offered at the ADC Training Academy.

CMS has the responsibility of ensuring that all HIV inmates receive appropriate clinical and medicinal therapy, including multi-drug therapy.

During FY2005 there was one case of active tuberculosis diagnosed within ADC. During annual screening, a total of 11,945 inmates were screened for tuberculosis with 10,086 PPD's administered and 87 new converters (a conversion rate of 0.8%).

There were 6,365 inmates screened at intake with 6,023 skin tests administered and 183 new converters (a conversion rate of 1.9%). Our jails screened a total of 247 detainees with 231 PPD's administered and 9 new converters (a conversion rate of 0.9%)

Arkansas Correctional Industries

The Arkansas Correctional Industries (ACI) moved into permanent office space in the Administrative East Building in Pine Bluff. ACI and the Agricultural Division share a wing within the complex. ACI now has a showroom in order to display many of the items offered to their customers.

Arkansas Correctional Industries is a self-supporting entity of the Arkansas Department of Correction. Programs are located at four units throughout the State of Arkansas. Approximately 500 inmates are assigned to these programs and manufacture products that are sold to State Government, schools, and nonprofit organizations along with employees of the ADC and Board of Corrections. Vocational education training is offered to participating inmates through a joint effort between Riverside Vo-Tech and ACI.

In November 2005, ACI opened the first private prison industries program at the McPherson Unit. Actronix Inc. contracted with ACI to utilize a new building and will employ up to 80 female inmates to manufacture wiring harnesses for the company. Actronix will pay each inmate employee a wage, which will mark the first time in ADC history that an inmate worker will be paid a wage for services. Each inmate employed will pay an operational fee, all taxes, contribute to a Victim's Reparations fund (if applicable), send money to her dependents (if applicable), and put money into a savings account. Plans are being made to work with other private companies in an effort to offer this program to other units within ADC.

ACI products are listed in an on-line catalog at www.acicatalog.com. Customers have the capability to order products directly from the website. A one-time 5% discount is offered to customers when making their first online web order.
